

The Africaday 2011. The day about Africa and international cooperation!

The Africaday 2011 has various new elements. Besides the usual program of workshops, lectures, and debates, there is an ongoing program of short items such as speed dates, interviews, inspirational speeches, African silent disco, film, dance, and various markets.

With

- State Secretary Ben Knapen, who will open the day with his vision on the future of development cooperation,
- Dance4Life Ambassador Jan Kooijman who will talk about his experiences in Africa,
- A debate about doing business in Africa between Dick Benschop (Shell) and Eduard Nazarski (Amnesty International),
- Egypt's 'Facebook Girl' Esraa Abdel Fattah who will talk about her role in Egypt's revolution this spring,
- And former Minister Jan Pronk, Tineke Ceelen (Stichting Vluchteling), Ton Dietz (African Studies Centre), the Ugandan gay rights activist Kasha Nabagesera, and many more experts from Africa, business life, NGOs and the Dutch and European Parliament.
